Mountain View Bible College

The Pioneer readers will be interested to know that work is progressing nicely on the building which is being erected on the camp grounds of the M.B.C. Church at Didsbury. Bible school classes have been conducted in the Sunday School rooms of the church for the past several winters, but the increasing demand and growing interest on the part of the young people of the Conference, has necessitated larger quarters, hence, the building now under construction which is to serve for dormitory and class room purposes. The building will be 36x10 feet, with full basement and two stories high and will cost around $6000 when completed, according to present plans, without the furnishings.

The purpose of this school is to give the young people of the Conference and any others who wish to take the course a practical working knowledge of the Bible and such English branches as may be necessary to qualify them for efficient service in the Master's Vineyard, where they will be free from the baneful influences of destructive criticism. The advisability of such a school will be still more evident when the reader learns that since 1919 twenty-five of our young people have attended such schools in other places, mostly in the states, located at various places between Chicago and the Pacific coast. Their courses ranged from three to five years, thus approximating an expenditure of 60,000.00 to say nothing of exchange on money. Some paid as high as 18 per cent. in favor of the U.S. railway fares, head-tax, passports, etc. The writer himself went to Cincinnati, Ohio, in 1904 and after completing a course there in a bible school, returned to Alberta in 1907. Beside all this some of these excellent young people are lost to both the church and country because they have never returned. Thus we believe that the Mountain-View Bible college locally situated in the easily accessible town of Didsbury is a timely venture and an advance step in the right direction.

We plan to have the school in readiness for the opening of the fall term which begins this year on November 1st and closes on December 23rd. The second term opens on January 4th, 1927, and will close on April 1st, making five months in all for the school year. The very reasonable sum of one hundred dollars (continued on page 5)

Hamilton, Ontario.—"I have taken several bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I cannot speak too highly of it as I was at the Change of Life and was all run-down and had no appetite. I was very weak and sick, and the pains in my back were so bad I could hardly move. I got very sad at times and thought I had not a friend on earth. I did not care if I lived or died. I was very nervous, too, and did not go out very much. A friend advised me to try a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, so I did. I am a farmer's wife, and always worked hard until lately, and was in bed for two months. I began to feel like a new woman after the first bottle and I recommend it with great success, also Lydia E. The Country And Its Consuming Population By C. W. Peterson

With comparatively few exceptions, the country towns of Canada have been going down hill or have barely held their own during recent years. Various causes have been ascribed to this disturbing phenomenon chiefly improved highways and the general use by farmers of automobiles, which enable them periodically to do their trading, and, incidentally, indulge in recreation, in the cities, thus cutting off an enormous volume of farm labor employed and, consequently, the consuming population tributary to the country town. Rural mail delivery has largely cut out the visit to the post office and so forth.

But new possibilities are opening up for the smaller centres. It is a fundamental fact that organized life passes through crises and, automatically almost, out of them again. Every spell of depression in human affairs is just the winter period which precedes the dawn of spring! While old kinds of business have disappeared, new kinds of business have appeared in the towns. There are the sales agencies for automobiles and trucks. Every town has them. The man in charge is related also to thousands of others like him in a wonderful system of salesmanship in a line which was absolutely unknown in the towns twenty years ago. Farm mechanization has also led to larger and better implement houses, tractor agencies and filling stations.

The towns are also organized better than they used to be, to ship out their products. Here's a place of fourteen hundred people, where they have established a big poultry-and-egg-shipping centre. A modern building, properly arranged and ventilated, with well-equipped office rooms, a good warehouse, ample side track from the main line of the railroad. Carloads of poultry shipped direct to the cities. Can you beat it? Who says that the town is not coming back?

The farmers are shipping the cream out from the towns, through local agencies, and getting cream checks for it every week—real cash money from the outside world—cashing their checks at the local banks and spending a lot of the money with the local merchants.

It's true there was a time when city high schools lured the young people away from the towns. But during the past decade the towns have erected their own high school buildings. As one travels across Canada, he is impressed with the fact that towns everywhere have gone into the high school business. The local young folks are living at home and going to school. That is making a new social life in the town, such as was not known previously.

From the cities they are doing some things that are helping the towns to return. Certain railroad companies are moving their repair shops from big city centres out to small division points. It saves overhead cost, minimizes the risk of labor troubles, and scatters service stations for repair work.

In the east, there's a notable tendency to scatter industrial plants. This has become so marked that an organization in the United States has recently made surveys and published the results, of the influence of these industries upon the rural areas through which they have been scattered. In a journal published for factory executives there recently appeared a series of articles, entitled "Why We Moved to the Country." They told the personal experiences and impressions of managers who had taken their industries out of the city centres into the small towns. At any rate, the towns are returning, and the prophets that have been croaking disaster are already getting old and senile.

But while the close observer is bound to conclude that a new era has arisen for the country towns we cannot overlook the palpable fact that the new development that awaits the rural centre is going to be slow unless steps are made towards augmenting Canada's almost stationary population through a vigorous immigration policy which would benefit town and country alike. Every citizen is interested in filling up our vacant agricultural spaces throughout the length and breadth of this enormous country in order that we may approach a proper balance between rural and urban population which is at present sadly out of proportion.

The Jumper Costume Still Plays A Winning Game

The sun never sets on the activities of the insatiable two-piece mode. Here we see it in its smartest and most approved version—straight, simple overblouse, and softly flaring skirt, so charmingly youthful for the slender figure, and equally flattering to more mature lines. The blouse opens at the neck under a flat plait and chooses a collar of the boyish type. There are gathers at each shoulder where the back joins the front, and two set-in pockets furnish the only trimming note. The long sleeves are set in at the armhole and finished with linked cuffs. The blouse No. 1044, is in sizes 34, 35, 36, 40 and 42 inches bust. Size 36 requires 2 1/4 yards 36-inch plain material; 3/4 yard contrasting color. The flared skirt, No. 1298, is joined to a body lining, and is in sizes 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42 inches bust. Size 36 bust requires 2 3/4 yards 36-inch material; bodice top 3/4 yard 36-inch lining. Price 20 cents each pattern.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

SEPTEMBER 5

THE TENT OF MEETING

Golden Text: Jehovah spake unto Moses face to face, as a man speaketh unto his friend. Exodus 33:11.

Lesson: Exodus 33.

Devotional Reading: Psalm 51:7.

Explanations and Comments

The Place and Purpose of the Tent of Meeting, verses 7-11.—These verses describe the customary way in which Moses performed his high priestly service during the wilderness life, before the tabernacle was erected. At every new encampment Moses "used to take the tent," a special tent which he called the tent of meeting, and have it set up by itself, far from the camp. Similarly, after the settlement in Canaan, the local sanctuaries were beyond the towns and villages. This tent was especially sacred because in it Moses as priest obtained answers from God for any inquirer who came there with his perplexities. When his duties were over, Moses returned to the camp, but the tent was constantly guarded by his attendant, a young man named Joshua, verse 11.

When Moses started for the tent, the eyes of all the people followed him until he entered it. When he had tarried on Mount Sinai, the people had complained to Aaron that "for this Moses, the man that brought us up out of the land of Egypt, we know not what is become of him," and the new arrangement was better for the wayward people. When they saw the pillar of cloud, the symbol of the divine presence, descend and hover about the door of the tent, each man sitting and watching at the entrance of his own tent would rise up and worship. And Jehovah spake with Moses.

A BROKEN DOWN SYSTEM.
This is a condition (or dis- ease) to which doctors give many names, but which few of them really understand. It is simply weakness—broken down, as it were, of the vital forces that sustain the system. No matter what may be its causes (they are almost numberless), its symptoms are much the same; the more prominent being sleeplessness, sense of prostration or weariness, depression of spirits and want of energy for all the ordinary affairs of life. Now, what a tone is absolutely essential in all such cases is increased vitality—vigour, vital strength and energy to throw off these morbid feelings, and as night succeeds the day this may be more certainly secured by a course of THE NEW FRENCH REMEDY, THERAPION No. 3 than by any other known combination. So surely as it is taken in accordance with the directions accompanying it, will the shattered health be restored THE EXPIRING LAMP OF LIFE LIGHTED UP AFRESH, and a new existence imparted in place of what had so lately seemed worn-out, used up, and valueless. This wonderful medicament is suitable for all ages, constitutions and conditions, in either sex; and it is difficult to imagine a disease or derangement whose main feature is weakness, that will not be speedily and permanently overcome by the recuperative essence, which is destined to cast into oblivion everything that had preceded it for this wide-spread & numerous class of human ailments. Tube Train Was Forgotten

Current in London's Underground Switched Off By Mistake

A tube train was delayed twenty minutes in the tunnel near Chalk Farm, England, because the station staff thought that the last train to Hendon had gone through, and had turned off the current in the section.

The train had almost reached the station when it stopped, the ordinary lights went out and the emergency lights came on.

The staff at the station, fortunately, soon discovered their mistake, but before it could be rectified they had to be sure that the line was clear. During the night a staff of workmen examined the line thoroughly, and it was necessary to ensure that they were all safe.

"anchor." No matter how long her absence it was always staffed with servants, and the hot house flowers that gave their color and perfume to the winter garden were carefully tended. Roddy's greeting was his usual one: "Can you make some magic signs or recite mystic words that will bring me a morning highball?"

"I fancy Walker, having let you in, has the tray already waiting," she replied, motioning him to a silver bell on the low, marble table, which fronted the bench on which she had fixed herself, cross legged on a pile of cushions, obviously for half an hour with a book. "You won't mind, will you," she inquired, "if I don't straighten my legs out? It's quite a bother to curl them up this way, you know."

She patted a cushion beside her, inviting him to share the bench, but he declined, propping himself on the edge of the table, so that he faced her.

"I can never enjoy a highball when I'm too close to a woman," he explained. "One distracts my attention from the other, consequently I miss something of both."

"I can't fancy you failing to exact the utmost from either," she retorted. "You flatter my vanity and in the some breath shame my faults. For the moment, as Walker is prompt in his response to the summons, I shall disabuse you of your judgment—as to the highball."

She watched him silently while he poised the decanter over a glass. She merely nodded her refusal to his "Are you joining me?" He poured his portion and added the ginger ale he preferred to soda. "My compliments!" he said, holding his glass slightly toward her. She nodded her permission, her eyes still fixed on him: "Do you know," he observed, when he had tasted his drink, "I never see a woman—a pretty woman; that is—posed on a cushioned pedestal as you are, in the posture of a female Buddha, or the wife of some Hindu god, that I don't wonder what sinister deviltry they ponder over. If I should come across you, like that, in a Hindu Temple of Gold, or behind the altars along some Path of Auspiciousness, I should feel the urge to make a sacrifice to you—of a maiden widow, or a first born girl child, or something of the sort, to propitiate you!"

The lines at each corner of her lips deepened, and her soft, silvery laugh seemed to blend into the winter garden perfumes. "Admirable, Roddy!" she exclaimed merrily. "Your overture is magnificent. I am all prepared for the play. Finish your highball, pour yourself another, fix one for me, without fee please, so it will be ready if I need it, and then you may tell me the evil you are going to accuse me of pondering."

His expression didn't change. He obeyed the first of her injunctions, and emptied his glass. When he had also filled it again, and another for her, which she motioned him to put aside, in reserve, he remarked: "I refuse to be so abrupt."

"Then you really have some new accusation? Is it very serious, this time, Roddy?"

"I repeat," he insisted, "that even if you do spoil my carefully thought out approach, I shall not be deterred from getting my information in my own leisurely way. Let us talk of something extraneous—of the girl of last night, for example. Extraordinary situation, isn't it? Smothered by money and doesn't know where to turn for breath!"

"You are not nearly so good now, Roddy, as you were before!" Yvonne flicked him with the tail of her inscrutable smile, and then prodded him deeper. "It was the girl you were thinking about when you came in—I don't think she's been off your mind since last night. And if there's any evil in store for her you want to provide it yourself, don't you, Roddy? Isn't that it?"

He put down his glass. "That's good whiskey," he observed, "but it dulls one's wits. My strategy seems to be going wrong."

Strange Story From India

Says Stolen Hindu Children Crawl Like Wolf Abductors

Fantastic tales of how Hindu children, stolen by wolves, learn to crawl on all fours in imitation of their abductors until far past the age at which children usually walk, are contained in the reports from Lieut.-Col. Faunthorpe, magistrate of several provinces of India. During the harvest season, women leave their children asleep on the ridges separating the fields, finding later that the babies have disappeared. The women believe they are carried away by gypsies and wild beasts.

Faunthorpe, writing in a Calcutta newspaper, mentions the case of a boy of eight years, who was captured by wolves and later photographed by Faunthorpe crawling on his knees and elbows and behaving like a wolf. After his capture the child died from fright.

The Hindu tale probably establishes the truth of the Roman legend about Remus and Romulus.

The wolves are considered a pest by the Hindus and the government is making efforts toward their destruction.

Lieut.-Col. Faunthorpe mentions the case of a pack of wolves attacking an antelope in flank formation. As soon as the wolf fighting the antelope is exhausted it is relieved by another, which carries on the battle until the antelope is vanquished.

Strange Ways Of Lightning

Some Trees Show Evidence of Being Struck Many Times

Lightning often strikes two or even more times in the same place. Some trees, favorably located for attracting the flash, bear seven or eight scars, all visible, and determined by a stem analysis of the trunk.

It has been contended, though not proved, that big trees in California are repeatedly struck, and that, although not killed, their leaders are broken and their tops stunted in consequence. The form of the boles and the shape of the crowns of these trees would seem to favor this belief. Although giants, their heights are much less than would be expected from the taper of their boles.

Such trees as the oak, more particularly cork oak, have a very bad reputation for attracting lightning.

Cholera infantum is one of the fatal ailments of childhood. It is a trouble that comes on suddenly, especially during the summer months, and unless prompt action is taken the little one may soon be beyond aid. Baby's Own Tablets are an ideal medicine in warding off this trouble. They regulate the bowels and sweeten the stomach and thus prevent the dreaded summer complaints. They are an absolute safe medicine, being guaranteed to contain neither opiates nor narcotics or other harmful drugs. They cannot possibly do harm—they always do good. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

The amount of carbon deposited by lubricating oil when it burns in the cylinders of a tractor is directly dependent upon the amount of carbon it contains.

Marvelube, the new golden-colored Imperial Tractor Oil, successfully combats carbon because it contains only the merest trace.

Months of rigid laboratory tests and a long series of seven service tests under the most unfavorable operating conditions have proved conclusively that Marvelube possesses this amazing property to such a remarkable degree that it will eliminate carbon troubles if proper care is taken in its use and the correct grade used at all times.

Marvelube is made from a selected grade of Peruvian Crude Oil—the world's richest lubricant base. It is refined by the Marvelube Process, which is a new and entirely different method of refining oil, developed and perfected after four years of research and experiment by Imperial Oil Limited.

By the Marvelube process, the original low carbon content of Peruvian Crude Oil is further reduced to the merest trace in the finished product.

The very small amount of carbon that is formed by Marvelube is such a soft and flakey nature that it is readily expelled by the exhaust, leaving the cylinder walls, pistons, bearings and all friction surfaces clean and perfectly lubricated, even after a long grind of steady operation.

In addition to this almost carbonless quality, Marvelube is superior in every other respect to any other motor oil ever produced.

It holds its body and maintains its oil film at high engine temperatures that could break down other oils. It remains a fluid, with full lubricating value, at low temperatures that stiffen and congeal the best of other brands.

Steady use of the right grade of Marvelube will give your tractor increased power and work capacity and cut operating expenses to a surprising degree.

Try Marvelube and you will find it lives up to every claim made for it. Now, while the season is young, is the time for you to cash in on the benefits that this new oil has brought to power farming.

MOTHER SEEKS WANDERING BOY

Down at Two Harbors, Minnesota, an anxious mother, Mrs. C. V. Mayfield, sits waiting the return of a foolish, young boy, aged fifteen years, who, lured by the glamour of the Western picture, left home on June 26 without letting her know where or how he was going.

Richard Mayfield, when last seen, purchased a ticket at the ticket office of the Duluth Winnipeg, Canada. He told that he intended to attend the "Stampede" at Winnipeg and was going to relatives in the harvest fields of western Canada. Nothing has been heard from him since that date and an anxious mother will appreciate information which will locate him. Richard is fifteen years old, five feet eight inches in height and weighs 135 pounds, light complexioned and generally wears his hair long and combed straight back, has blue eyes, wore a dark grey suit and light cap.

The W.I. will meet at the home of Mrs. H. Rennie on Friday, September 10th. Mr. Liggett, school inspector, will speak on "Education and Better Schools." A big attendance is requested for the first meeting of the fall season.

Rugby

The Rugby W.I. held their annual flower and vegetable contest at Rugby school last Thursday. Although there were not so many flowers as usual, there were several entries in each class. While the judging was being done Mrs. Hosegood gave a paper on "An Ideal Community" and community singing occupied the rest of the time.

Mrs. W. M. Wilson, Mrs. Marsh and Miss M. Hughes very capably and satisfactorily acted as judges. The prizes were awarded as follows:

Cabbage—Mrs. Hosegood, Mrs. J. H. Robertson.

Cauliflower—Mrs. MacFarlane, Mrs. W. F. Brown.

Beets—Mrs. W. F. Brown, Mrs. MacFarlane.

Carrots—Mrs. J. H. Robertson, Mrs. Gale Swingle.

The Mountain View W.I. met at the M. V. Community hall on Wednesday, August 27th. The subject was "Household Economics" under the direction of Mrs. Ed. Blaine. A short play on Labor saving devices was given by some of the members. An apple pie contest was held. The judging was done by Miss Edwards from the O.S.A. and thirteen pies were entered. Mrs. J. Shields receiving first prize, and Mrs. Stewart Tighe second prize. There was a large attendance of both members and visitors.

U.F.A. POLICIES

A vote for
ALFRED SPEAKMAN
the U.F.A. Candidate, is a vote for:

The retention of the Crow's Nest rates on grain, and its products, which mean, at least, four cents a bushel on all wheat shipped, and which would be destroyed.

THE WHEAT POOL AND TRADING IN FUTURES

In the Chicago Price Current Grain Reporter, the origin of the Chicago Grain Trade, there appeared early in August an article referring to the delivery of three million bushels of wheat on the last day of July by the Pool to cover sales made on the July option. The Central Selling Agency of the Canadian Wheat Pools felt at the time that the article was not worth much attention. Recently, however, it has appeared as a paid advertisement in the form of a news item in practically all of the Western Canadian weekly newspapers. This advertisement was sent out by a general advertising agency already set up in stereotyped form with the following instructions to the newspapers:

"Do not add printers' or advertising marks of any kind to the plate."

In view of this organized effort to misrepresent the transaction to the farmers of the west, the following facts are hereby given:

On July 1st the Sales Department of the Canadian Pool knew of the existence of a short interest in July wheat. July is the one month in the year when there is the least actual wheat, owned by either the grain trade or the farmers, available for delivery and when attempts are most frequently made on the part of speculators to squeeze the market. It soon became evident that an attempt of this sort was to be made. The Pool had in store a fair quantity of No. 3 Northern wheat for which there was no immediate export sale, in competition with which on the world market there was a considerable quantity of No. 2 Hard Winter wheat from the United States, which was selling at from 18 to 22 cents under Canadian No. 1 Northern wheat. This attempt at a corner soon forced the price of July wheat up to a point where the Pool felt they should sell some of their wheat, especially as they were able to sell No. 3 Northern wheat at around 10 cents per bushel over the price at which No. 2 Hard Winter wheat was being sold. The "long" interests in July wheat acted apparently on the assumption that the Pool would not step into the market at this time and they were, therefore, naturally surprised when, instead of being able to force a cash settlement with the "short" interests at the close of the month, they were faced with the actual delivery of this wheat. With the expiration of the July option and the pricking of the bubble, the men who had attempted to squeeze the market found themselves with a large quantity of wheat on hand which they had bought at the inflated July prices and which they would now be compelled to dispose of in competition with the American wheat. In the meantime the Pool had obtained for its members a very good price for their wheat.

The Pool is charged in the article referred to with having depressed the market by the delivery of this wheat, yet, as a matter of fact, No. 1 Northern wheat is at the time of writing trading slightly above the price at which it stood on July 1st. The statement is also made that the Pool had been throwing wheat on the market during the month of July in quantities which had checked advances. This statement is also disproved by the actual figures. On July 2nd the price was $1.49, on July 31st it was $1.59 and the high point reached between these dates was $1.62.

The charge is also made that the Pool is speculating in futures contrary to its expressed principles. The fact is that the Pool takes advantage of every available market to dispose of the farmers' wheat and on this occasion it happened that the attempted corner gave the Pool an opportunity to sell a quantity of wheat which they had actually at their disposal at a price which was temporarily higher than other markets offered. The Pool was not selling paper wheat with the object of buying it in again at a lower price, which is the method of the speculators, but was disposing of farmers' grain which they had for sale.

These are the facts of the operation and show that the "long" interests in July wheat lost out in their efforts to rig the market for their own benefit, while the Pool had succeeded in marketing, at a very satisfactory price, a large quantity of wheat.

The above article issued by the Central Selling Agency of the Canadian Wheat Pools.

A Western Programme

On September 14, through the medium of the ballot box, the electors of Canada will decide one all-important issue, but in so doing they will determine several vitally important matters. In the first place, they will make choice of the man or woman in whom they repose confidence as their constituency representative in the next House of Commons. In only a few isolated cases do candidates seeking the suffrages of the electors stand merely as exponents of their own personal views and policies; in the vast majority of cases they likewise represent a political party or group, and their election means approval of the leaders, the principles and the policies of that party or group. Thus the individual voter in marking his or her ballot not only makes selection of the person they desire to represent them in Parliament for the next five years, but they express their opinion as to whom should head the Government during that period, and render their verdict as to the policies which should prevail in dealing with the major questions now before the country.

Parliament exists in order that in matters of government the will of the people may be made to prevail. It is through the choice of members of the House of Commons representative of the views of a majority of individual voters that the popular will is made known and finds expression. Thus, where a majority of the voters, in any constituency in Canada, believe that their best interests will be served and advanced by a high protective tariff, they will naturally vote for a candidate who himself believes in that policy and is standing in support of the party which is pledged to such a policy. It is right and proper that they do so, nor is there anything sectional, nor disloyal to Canada in so voting. As free electors they are recording their will.

In like manner the people of a constituency who do not believe that tariff protection will benefit them, nor that it is in the best interests of the Dominion as a whole, will support that candidate and party whose policy favors only a moderate tariff consistent with the revenue and other requirements of the country and who favor reductions when and wherever possible. This is not sectional, nor antagonistic to the rest of Canada, but is again a right and proper expression of the people's will. Protectionist voters are voting for themselves and what they consider best for Canada; equally so, low tariff electors are voting for what they regard as in the national interests.

It is only so that the popular will of all Canadians can be ascertained and find expression in Parliament. When the representatives thus chosen assemble in Parliament all views will be presented and the majority must prevail, although in the interests of all there must be compromises effected.

This being the case it is of the utmost importance that voters think straight, see clearly, and vote strongly for those men, that party, and those principles and policies best calculated to give expression in Parliament and in legislation to a programme designed to advance the real and permanent interests of their constituencies.

Now there are certain things that Western people, whether Liberals, Conservatives, Progressives, Independents or Laborites, know this country needs in order to bring about development, increased population, and permanent prosperity. There may be some few in the ranks of each of these groups who hold contrary opinions, but, in general, Western people are united, regardless of party affiliations, in believing:

1. That the Hudson Bay Railway should be completed and put into operation with the least possible delay.
2. That a well considered system of Rural Credits should be inaugurated in order to provide for the needs of the agriculturists of the West.
3. That Canada should come into line with Great Britain and other advanced countries and provide pensions for the old and infirm who, having done their share in building up the Dominion, yet failed to accumulate a competence for their declining years.
4. That a sound and vigorous immigration policy and administration should be maintained, and, to that end, that policies should be put into effect designed to make settlement of Western lands attractive by making the profession of agriculture a profitable one.
5. That, in order to make farming more profitable than hitherto, it is essential that transportation charges be kept as low as possible consistent with the maintenance of our transportation systems, and that, in this connection, the Crow's Nest Pass statutory rates be maintained.
6. That lands sold to soldier settlers be revalued and justice done these men and their families. Western people, who are personally informed regarding the handicaps under which many of these settlers now labor, have no two opinions regarding this.
7. That, inasmuch as it is impossible to protect all industry in Canada by means of the tariff, and notably so in the case of agricultural products and livestock, the general tariff of the Dominion should be made as low as possible; advantage taken of every opportunity for making favorable trade arrangements with any and all countries, and tariff preferences further extended to all parts of the Empire.
8. That the Government and Parliament of Canada encourage and seek to develop co-operative undertakings in every legitimate way.

The above outlines a Western Programme with which an overwhelming majority of the people of Western Canada will be found in agreement. They would like full effect given to it. It is the duty, therefore, of each individual elector in the West to honestly examine the past record and present policies of the contending parties and candidates in the election culminating on September 14 and go to the polls and mark their ballot accordingly.

Western voters in favor of the Hudson Bay Railway must decide whether they consider the completion of the road will be most aggressively carried on under Charles A. Dunning, of Regina, or W. A. Black, of Halifax. Electors in favor of, must decide whether the Rural Credit Bill, the revaluation of soldier settlers' lands, the provision of Old Age Pensions, all passed by the last Parliament under Mackenzie King, but which failed of assent before dissolution, are more likely of attainment under a King or a Meighen Government.

Western electors in favor of Crow's Nest Pass rates must give consideration to the fact that the Crow's Nest Pass lower freight rates were provided for under a Liberal Government; that they were abrogated by a Conservative Government; that they were restored by a Liberal Government; that Mr. Meighen in this campaign is denouncing all statutory freight rates, and has stated that the railways need the money of which they are deprived through the Crow's Nest Pass agreement. Do the C.P.R. shareholders or the C.N.R. with its steadily rising revenues, need this money worse than do the farmers of the West?

Canada needs stable government. Mr. Meighen is appealing for support on the ground that he will provide stable government. Either he or Mr. King will be Premier after September 14, but neither Mr. Meighen nor Mr. King can guarantee stable government. The voters alone can determine that by giving one party or the other a working majority.

Says Debts Prevent Wars

Cancellation Will Bring Strife Opinion of U. S. Senator

"If America were to cancel war debts, Europe would be almost immediately embroiled in war, State Senator Bernard Downing, New York, said just before sailing from England for home.

"England knows this," he continued, "and that is why, with her traditional farsightedness she is not only setting an example to other nations by settling her own debts, but is advocating adjustment of accounts throughout Europe. Saddled with debts as they are, European countries now have work, and hard work is an excellent stabilizer. The country which is paying off financial obligations is not in a position to undertake another war, but is forced to re-establish economic rather than military strength.

The pool has so established itself in the confidence of western farmers that its membership is rapidly increasing. It promises to cover in time virtually the whole wheat-growing area in the west, and the principle is being extended to other branches of husbandry.—London Advertiser.

TRIALS OF INDIGESTION

Errors About This Trouble Into Which People Fall

Many people so far misunderstand the digestive system as to treat it like a machine; neglecting it until it works sluggishly, then irritating it into work again by the use of purgatives. The stomach needs help at all times, but a study of the process of digestion will show that purgatives, as commonly taken, are seldom necessary and often harmful.

To safeguard your digestion the diet must be controlled. Over-eating is always harmful, but one must assimilate enough food to supply the needs of the blood. Remember, the blood has to carry nourishment to all parts of the body and find fuel for its energy. Hence when the blood becomes weak and fails to do its work, indigestion arises. Therefore the sure remedy for indigestion is to build up the blood. If you suffer from any form of indigestion choose your diet carefully and take wholesome nourishment. Above all, start building up your blood by taking a course of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Then under the influence of the new blood supply, your digestive system will respond naturally, your appetite improve and your food will do you good. So begin to improve your digestion by starting to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills now.

You can get these pills from your druggist or by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Aeroplane Travel Not Dangerous

Very Few Accidents Happen to Passengers Says Report

Travelling by aeroplane apparently is not nearly as dangerous as is commonly thought. The annual report of Civil Aviation states that since 1919 air transport flying has amounted to 4,563,000 miles and there have been only four accidents causing death of passengers.

During the year ended March, there were only four accidents and not one had serious consequences beyond damage to aircraft.

Passengers in British machines increased from 13,478 in 1924 to 14,675. Flying for hire or "joy-ride" flying showed a big increase, the number of passengers in this branch of aviation was 67,329, the largest on record.

Africa comprises nearly one-fourth of the earth's land surface.

Has No T.B. Cattle

Prince Edward Island is one of the few places in the world where tuberculosis in cattle has been absolutely eradicated. Eighty-six per cent. of the Island is covered with well stocked farm holdings and the possibilities for quality stock and for farming are exceptional.

A Prime Dressing for Wounds.—In some factories and workshops carbolic acid is kept for use in cauterizing wounds and cuts sustained by the workmen. Far better to keep on hand a bottle of Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. It is just as quick in action and does not scar the skin or burn the flesh.

The hardness of his way is never realized by the transgressor until he gets a good hard fall on it.

Women are eligible for five ranks of honor in the Order of the British Empire.

TARIFF BOARD MAKE INSPECTION OF STEEL MILLS

Ottawa.—Meetings of the Dominion tariff advisory board have been resumed. Right Hon. George P. Graham, who has just returned from Europe, met in private session with Commissioners Alfred Lambert and D. G. MacKenzie. The two latter reported on the result of their inspection of the steel mills of Canada.

Messrs. Lambert and MacKenzie, accompanied by Dr. A. W. G. Wilson, chief of the mineral resources division of the federal department of mines, spent nearly three weeks investigating conditions surrounding the manufacture of steel and iron in the Dominion. They travelled from Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., to Sydney, N.S. They visited the properties of the Algoma Steel Corporation at the Sault, the Dominion Alloy Steel Company, Sarnia, the proposed steel plant at Ojibway, near Windsor, Ont., the Steel Company of Canada, Hamilton, and the various mills and plants of the British Empire Steel Corporation at Sydney and New Glasgow, N.S.

They reported that they had been treated with great consideration everywhere and were given the freedom of the plants. No further comment was contained in the statement given out after the meeting.

Some 24 applications in respect of the customs tariff have been placed before the tariff board to date, Mr. Graham stated.

"A few of these have been disposed of," he added, "several are about to be reported on and all are in some stage of investigation by the board and its experts."

The Struggle In Mexico.

Indefinite Continuation of Stalemate In Religious Situation

Mexico City.—The Episcopate has issued a written statement declaring that the government has sent a circular to all government employees and school teachers requiring a statement as to whether they belong to the League of the Defence of Religious Liberty or the Knights of Columbus, or whether they are loyal to the government and support the government's religious policy.

The Episcopate declares that it does not recognize the government's right "thus to violate religious liberty."

The business men of Mexico, with undisguised gloom, are settling down with whatever philosophy and resignation they can muster to what seems to be an indefinite continuation of the stalemate in the religious situation. There is still hope that somehow a solution may be found, but so far as tangible facts are concerned nothing has occurred of late to substantiate that hope. If anything, the government and Episcopate both seem to be adopting a somewhat stiffer attitude.

Missing Air Pilot Returns

Manitoba Fire Fighter Delayed By Heavy Smoke Clouds

Cormorant Lake, Man.—Missing from the air base here for more than a week, Flight Lieut. Mawdsley of the Royal Canadian Air Force, has returned to Cormorant Lake safely.

Aiding in the fighting of forest fires north of here, Lieut. Mawdsley was forced to make a landing owing to heavy smoke clouds from the fires. He was compelled to wait until the atmosphere cleared before returning to his station here. Lieut. Stevenson, who started out to search for the missing aviator, returned with Lieut. Mawdsley.

Melbourne.—Advertisements in Great Britain for 40 school teachers to fill positions here which the acute local shortage has left vacant, had brought a large response, 500 applicants having already been received.

R.C.M.P. Border Patrol

Windsor, Ont.—A force of 50 Royal Canadian Mounted Police on motor cycles are patrolling the river front in an attempt to prevent smuggling and rum-running.

Criticizes The Government

King Says Government Spending Million Dollars a Day Without Authorization

Saint John, N.B.—The Melghen Government was providing itself with spending money at the rate of $1,000,000 a day by governor-general's warrants, declared Mr. Mackenzie King here at the second meeting of his campaign in the Maritime Provinces.

Mr. King drew attention to the fact that the present government was continuing in office and administering the affairs of the country under governor-general's warrants, thereby spending public money without parliamentary supervision or authorization by parliament. Yet parliament had declined to vote Mr. Melghen's Government any supply and had declared by resolution that its members were holding office illegally and that the government had no right to exist.

"The total amount which has been taken from the treasury under governor-general's warrants up to the beginning of the present week—August 22—is over $54,000,000. In other words, Mr. Melghen's Government has been providing themselves with spending money at the rate of over $1,000,000 a day, though parliament has expressly declared they are not entitled to a single dollar. There is no parallel in British history or so great usurpation of office and power," said Mr. King.

"A further violation of office and power, was the approval of a $3,500,000 contract for a Canadian National Railway hotel in Vancouver, awarded without the calling of tenders and during an election."

Wrong Meaning Taken

Bishop of London Comments on Criticism By Westminster Gazette

Hesler, Ont.—"They have taken a wrong meaning from my words," the Bishop of London, Right Rev. A. F. Winnington-Ingram said in commenting on criticism by The Westminster Gazette on his address in Toronto when he was reported as saying: "Can we expect the same loyalty to British ideals from Galleians, Poles and God knows who else, who are populating Canada, and who do not know a word of English?"

He meant, the bishop explained, that if Canada is to be kept British, there must be a majority of English people coming to the Dominion as immigrants. That was only reasonable. "As for the French-Canadians," he continued, "I wish you would mention the fact that at Ottawa I paid a special tribute to the patient, loyal and hard-working French pioneers, who helped to lay the foundation of this country."

"The Westminster Gazette is a very radical paper, anyway," the bishop said. "I think they are just trying to make a bit of a splash. I have nothing against the foreigners, but I hope that the majority of immigrants will continue to be British."

Minority Groups Call Meeting At Geneva

Will Deal With Protection of Language and Religion

Geneva.—Apparently dissatisfied with the way the League of Nations handles the problems of minorities, a congress of national groups who form a minority under the flags of the European nations has been convoked at Geneva to treat questions of common interest and seek protection of language, race and religion.

The groups represented are those resident in 13 countries. They include Germans in the Italian Tyrol; Russians, Jews and Germans in Poland; Poles and Danes in Germany; Hungarians, Poles and Germans in Rumania; Poles, Germans and Jews in Czechoslovakia; Germans in Hungary; and Catalonians in Spain. Germans predominate.

Is Suing Ex-Kaiser

Berlin.—Former Kaiser Wilhelm is being sued in a Dresden court by Catherine Muller, who claims he refused to pay her fee for curing his stepson of stuttering. She says she cured Prince Shonach Carolath, the second son of the former Kaiser's present wife, of stuttering in four months. The imperial stutter case will be heard in the latter part of September.

COARSE GRAIN POOL HAS MADE FINAL PAYMENT

Regina.—Cheques totalling over $1,000,000 have been placed in the mails by the Saskatchewan Coarse Grains Pool, addressed to its Saskatchewan and Manitoba members, representing the final payment on the 1925-26 crop, the first crop handled since the pool was organized.

The cost of operating the pool for the first year is a shade under half a cent or, to be exact, $0.049 per bushel, while the carrying charges were $0.081 per bushel or a little better than three-fourths of a cent. Last year in the operation of the wheat pool the carrying charges were handled by the Central Selling Agency, whereas this year these charges are being taken care of by the provincial pools in both the wheat and coarse grain pools.

The gross amount of the final payment of the coarse grains pool crop for 1925-26 was approximately $1,200,000 and from this amount has been deducted the charges of one per cent. for commercial reserves and the elevator reserves of one cent a bushel for oats, 1½ cents for barley and rye and three cents for flax.

The acreage signed up to the coarse grains pools in Saskatchewan for the first crop year's operations follows: Oats, 1,747,575 acres; barley, 358,506 acres; flax, 351,384 acres; rye, 97,436 acres. The total membership in the coarse grains pool to date is 36,386 or a little less than 50 per cent. of the wheat pool membership in this province.

Win Prizes In England

Canadian Cattle Compete Successfully With Best In Britain

Ottawa.—The federal department of agriculture has been notified that two Canadian steers recently carried off the first prize for the best pair not exceeding 14 hundredweight and first and second prizes for the best butcher's beast on exhibit in the Aldborough and Borough Bridge agricultural show in Great Britain.

The department was advised that these successes were achieved over a very excellent showing of England and Scottish entries. This is considered of more than usual importance as indicating that the store cattle shipped from Canada to Britain and finished off there, can compete with the best bred in that country.

Wants Debts Settled

Brussels.—The delay of the French Government in ratifying the London and Washington debt accords may have an unfavorable reaction not only on the French franc but also on the Belgian franc, it is feared in financial and governmental circles in Brussels.

Meighen Issues Challenge

Maintains That Present Government Is Legally Constituted

Moose Jaw.—Premier Meighen issued a challenge to Mr. Mackenzie King. He challenged Mr. King to take any of the orders-in-council passed by the Meighen Government to the courts and test their validity on the point whether the government was a government or not.

Mr. Meighen, making his challenge, described the formation of his temporary ministry. "There is nothing I am not prepared to forfeit," Mr. Meighen declared, "if they can get any court in Canada to declare that we are not a legally constituted government."

His government was formed on a temporary basis just to finish the session, Mr. Meighen explained.

Mr. Mackenzie King took the ground—Mr. Meighen proceeded—that because our ministers were not sworn as acting ministers the whole government was illegal.

My first observation is this: "If I were a taxpayer, I would rather have a minister not sworn who did his duty than a sworn minister who did not do this. There are two oaths which a minister with portfolio must take: (1) His oath as a privy councillor, and (2) his oath as a minister."

"There is only one oath an acting minister must take. Every minister in that temporary government took his oath as a privy councillor, but no acting minister ever before took the oath as such in the history of Canada. Nor is there any law or any custom to call upon a man to take an oath as acting minister."

Northern Grown Flowers

Ship Cut Flowers From Alaska to Compete in Exhibition at Toronto

Edmonton.—An unusual express shipment passed through Edmonton recently. The parcel contained 133 pounds of cut flowers grown in Juneau, Alaska, and destined for the Toronto exhibition, where they will be placed on display.

Special attention was paid to the shipment of the blooms. Wrapped in a pasteboard box covered with brown wrapping paper, the flowers rested beneath a bag of cracked ice, which kept them cool. At intervals along the route, a messenger replaced this ice so that the flowers might be fresh on arrival.

Vernon, B.C.—The convention of the Union of British Columbia Municipalities approved an amendment to the Poll Tax Act making all women wage earners liable to the tax as well as men.

Claimant To Nobility Hurt

Ottawa.—William Legge, 85, who claimed to be the direct descendant of an English lord, was fatally injured when struck by a street car here.

DOUCET THOUGHT HIS INFORMANT WAS RELIABLE

Halifax.—A. J. Doucet, former Conservative member of parliament for Kent, N.B., told Sir Francois Lemieux at the re-opening of the customs probe here just what he had said from the public platform in regard to the cruise of the Margaret and why he had said it.

He had made his reference to the cruise of the Margaret in two speeches at St. John and Bridgewater when accompanying Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, premier, on his Maritime Province tour. He said:

"As far as I can remember, I said in St. John that the Margaret was taken off her course to Three Rivers, where she took Hon. Jacques Bureau and a party of eight on board. That she then called at Quebec and there took Hon. Ernest Lapointe on board," he said. Mr. Doucet informed the commissioner that the vessel had visited the Magdalen Islands and other points, being away for a period of six weeks, during which time the coasts which she should have been patrolling were unprotected.

He had received his information from a person whom he thought should have been in possession of absolutely reliable information on the matter, said Mr. Doucet.

At this point, R. L. Calder, K.C., commission counsel intervened. "I may say in extenuation of Mr. Doucet that when I heard the name of this informant, if this same information had been given to me by the same informant, I would have considered it a proper matter for investigation, and that it is not unlikely that a lay mind, which jumps at conclusions a little more quickly than a legal mind, might be misled," he said.

South Africa

Favors Secession

Not Inconsistent With Oath of Allegiance Says Minister of Mines

Johannesburg, South Africa.—Hon. F. W. Beyers, minister of mines and industries, replying to a correspondent who asked how, in view of his oath of office as a minister of the crown, he could advocate secession, declared that the right of secession had been admitted for the past 80 or 90 years by prominent British ministers and others. It, therefore, followed, he said, that for the very reason that a person was a British subject he was entitled, under the constitution of any dominion, to make propaganda for putting absolute equality with the United Kingdom into practice and even to advocate secession.

The oath of allegiance, Mr. Beyers contended, could not derogate from constitutional rights and was, therefore, not inconsistent with the exercise of such rights.

Historic Exhibits Stolen

Priceless Objects Taken From Theatrical Museum in Milan

Milan.—A sword given by Napoleon to the opera singer Gulditta Pasta, and other precious relics have been stolen from the theatrical museum adjoining the Scala Opera House, which contains priceless objects and documents referring to ancient and modern dramatic art. The thief took Napoleon's sword, which was set with gems and a medal which once belonged to the celebrated Italian, Count Vittorio Alfieri, together with a golden crown owned by the famous dancer, Marchionni, and a historic collar and bracelet.

H. E. Roppel, pastor

Our last Sunday morning service was one of unusual interest and was much appreciated by our elderly folks in whose honor it was held. The pastor gave them a simple message of encouragement on "The Glories of Old Age," Prov. 16:31. There were 120 worshippers in attendance. The oldest couple being Mr. and Mrs. Ben Hunsperger; he having reached the good old age of 86 years and 10 months and his wife 84 years and 7 months. Boht are still enjoying a reasonable degree of good health, able to take care of themselves in their own little cottage home. It is interesting to note that in their relation four generations were present as follows: their daughter, Mrs. I. Levagood, age 65, and her nephew, Mr. G. Feeg, age 31 with his little son Harold, age 3 years. Mrs. Wm. Hunsperger, age 78, being a regular attendant at church almost every Sunday must also be remembered in this relationship. There were 13 present who over 70 years of age, such as Mr. Wm. Rupp, Mrs. Mueller, Mrs. Brown, Mr. Bolander, etc. Besides these there was still a larger group ranging from 65 to 70 years. The congregation considered it a rare privilege to give recognition to pillars and pioneers of the west. These elderly folk as church labor day being near at hand again the sermon subject next Sunday evening will be "The Dignity of Labor."

Mrs. M. B. Clemens is visiting at present in B.C. with her son and family.

Mr. Henry Weber has been somewhat disabled during the past week as a result of a lump of coal falling upon his foot.

Rev. and Mrs. Roppel spent a day in Calgary last week and missed a wedding because of their absence from home. Sorry!

KNOX UNITED CHURCH

Mr. Hayes is attending the School of Religion at Calgary part of this week. The school is under the auspices of the United church, and about one hundred ministers are in attendance. The feature of this week's session is Dr. Torwood's lectures and sermons. Dr. Torwood is minister of the City Temple, London, England and is on a tour in connection with world peace, and other matters of vital importance. Mr. Hayes is planning to give to the congregation, Sunday an interpretation of Dr. Torwood's message. Ministers have come from distant parts of Alberta to be present at the conference. It is very necessary that the people also be alert for the message which the ministers will bring to their congregations.

CHURCH OF ENGLAND DIDSBURY

Dear friends:

From now onward we are changing our schedule of services. Will you please make a special note that the first Sunday in each month we are to have service at three o'clock in the afternoon, and on the third Sunday in each month it will be morning service at 11 o'clock.

Thus on next Sunday September 2nd it will be afternoon service at three.

With every good wish
Your sincerely,
Herbert Clay.
